About this workbook

Turning Point is turning 60 years old in 2024.

We are asking people
to share their story
using an everyday object.

You can use this workbook to choose your own object.

You can get creative in any way you choose.

There is no right or wrong answer.

It could be your favourite mug when you have tea with your support worker.

It could be the keys to your new home.

You can pick something which is important to you.

Please complete the empty spaces
in the boxes below.

1. What is your name?

2. What is the name of your object?

3. Draw your object

A large, empty rectangular box with rounded corners. It has a light gray fill and is outlined with a thick, solid pink border. This box is intended for the user to draw their object.

4. Describe your object

A large, empty rectangular box with rounded corners, outlined in a thick magenta border, intended for writing a description of the object.

5. Why did you choose this object?

A large, empty rectangular box with rounded corners, outlined in a thick magenta border, intended for writing the reason for choosing the object.
